The thumbnail shows a newspaper page with a blue header. The main headline is "Perdersi in Garcia Lorca" in bold black text. Below the headline is a small black and white portrait of a man with long, wavy hair. The text of the article is in a small font, arranged in columns. There are several sub-headings and paragraphs visible, though the text is too small to read clearly. The overall layout is typical of a news or cultural section in a magazine or newspaper.
